

We're recruiting

Vineland Research and Innovation Centre's Consumer Insights team is recruiting new sensory panelists.

If you are:

- A food and plant enthusiast
- Interested in horticultural products including fresh and processed vegetables and fruits, flowers and more

And would love a job involving:

- Meeting at least once per week at Vineland on a regular schedule to evaluate horticultural products
- Describing products by taste, flavour or appearance
- Working collaboratively and contributing to research

...then this part-time opportunity could be for you!

Step one, complete this survey:
