Vineland offers automation solutions for horticulture

Vineland's new horticultural automation services ranging from technology assessment and consultation to custom automation solutions ease labour challenges while improving yield quality and pesticide controls.

Our in-house automation experts bring together a wealth of knowledge in data science, robotics, computer vision and systems integration to meet industry needs.

Data science   Robotics   Computer vision   Systems integration

For more information, please contact:
Brian Lynch, PhD
Director, Horticultural Technology Systems
brian.lynch@vinelandresearch.com

Dan Bath, PhD
Research Scientist, Horticultural Automation
daniel.bath@vinelandresearch.com

Sustainable Canadian Agricultural Partnership

Ontario

Canada